• SOCIETY TRIAL COURSE

The annual meeting of the Japan Society for Bioscience, Biotechnology, and Agrochemistry 2011 will feature a Society trial course. Although some restrictions apply, participants will be able to take part in the Society's annual meeting for free. The course is intended for undergraduate students to gain first-hand knowledge of the Society and support its future activities, and for international researchers to promote the Society's international exchanges. Further information is outlined below. Thank you for your interest.

Intended participants: Undergraduate students, international postgraduate students and researchers, and people not presenting in the general lectures

Registration: Please register by showing your student ID and completing your name, affiliation, and year at the university. Name tags will be distributed. Please have your name tag displayed at all times during the meeting.

Notes: You will not be able to participate in the general meeting, social gathering, luncheon seminars, luncheon symposia, or networking session. Please also refrain from using the beverage section. Also, please visit our website for the meeting program. There will also be a questionnaire about this course, so we kindly request your cooperation.
